

PAUL HOSE

Paul Hose's commitments to you

Teaching and learning

- Deliver teaching informed by industry
- Use appropriate technology to support you
- Offer varied assessment, giving you timely and constructive individual feedback

Support

- Develop your confidence and independence, helping you fulfil your potential
- Offer extra-curricular activities to enhance your employability
- Provide academic, professional and personal support when you need it

Awareness

- Communicate with you clearly, effectively and in good time
- Consult and listen to your views, and act on your feedback

Dignity and respect

- Ensure we respect and celebrate cultural and international diversity in all our services
- Deliver services accessible and inclusively
- Provide equality of opportunity for all of our associates and students
- Treat students and associates with dignity and respect, both in person and online

Your Commitments as a student

General principles

1. Be here
2. On time
3. Work to deadline
4. Be professional

Teaching and learning

- Prepare in advance and plan your workload
- Complete all your work to deadlines and strive to learn from assessment and feedback
- Share and discuss your ideas, participating in your learning and attending timetabled sessions punctually

Support

- In partnership with your tutors, take responsibility for developing your skills at the appropriate level
- Keep Paul Hose informed of any changes in your personal situation via paulhose.com

Take part in Paul Hose life

- Take part in academic and social activities across paulhose.com
- Engage with formal and informal feedback opportunities

Awareness

- Recognise and develop your employability potential
- Discover the services available to you and use them as needed
- Be aware of and abide by awarding body and Paul Hose guidelines and regulations

Dignity and respect

- Develop professional standards of behaviour
- Treat other students and associates with dignity and respect, both in person and online
- Respect yourself, the paulhose.com environment and the wider community